Synopsis

Beginning:

A spark of light defines the beginning of life. Unseen to humanity at the point of conception, the embryo is called into being by the Creator.

Middle:

As the child is knitted in the womb, so does the process of destiny. The plan and purpose of each person was set from the beginning of time. As the child continues to develop physically, so does his or her life's journey. Man makes his plans, but God directs his path.

End:

The crowning glory of the Father is represented as the child's head crowns as birth takes place. Life is beautiful and fulfilling the journey from conception to death is to live life and live it more abundantly.
